Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The close reference for the current invention are Sikkenga et al (U.S. 5,256,817) and Partenheimer et al (U.S. 5,081,290).

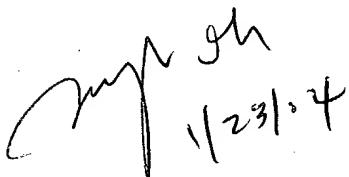

Sikkenga et al teaches a method of purifying a naphthalenedicarboxylic acid such as 2,6-naphthalenedicarboxylic acid obtained from the oxidation of 2,6-dimethylnaphthalene by treating the impure naphthalenedicarboxylic acid with hydrogen in the presence of a hydrogenation catalyst and a mixture of carboxylic acid and water at a temperature of at least 500⁰ F. Partenheimer et al describes a process of producing an aromatic dicarboxylic acid by the oxidation of a polyalkyl aromatic compound such as 2,6-naphthalenedicarboxylic acid obtained from the oxidation of 2,6-dimethylnaphthalene in the presence of a catalyst system containing tin.

However, the instant invention differs from the references in that there is no suggestion that the bi-metal catalyst containing Group VIII and Group IVB metals would be used in the presence of hydrogen during the claimed purification process since the Partenheimer et al's tin catalyst has only used in the oxidation process, thereby lacking in a reasonable success and motivation; furthermore, according to the filed declaration dated on 6/10/2003, applicants have shown unexpected results such as the improved reduction of impurities of 6-Me-2NA and 2,6-DCT at the claimed temperature range of 520-575⁰ F.

Therefore, applicants' claimed subject matter would not have been obvious to the person with an ordinary skill in the art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Any inquiry concerning the communication after allowance such as sending all post-allowance correspondence should be directed to "Box Issue Fee" or faxed directly to PUBS at 703-305-8755. This will expedite the process of these papers.
